Bobby:

In reviewing your most recent filing, I have noticed a number of items that are completely manufactured.

Specifically, I never told you I would have “fun” arguing your threatened motion and the conversation I purportedly had with my client while getting on the elevator was also completely manufactured. You basically just made that up.

While you are entitled to make your ridiculous arguments, making blatantly false misrepresentations to a federal court is really no laughing matter. As far as I am concerned, you are lying directly to the Court and it’s simply not appropriate.

Will you please withdraw and correct your filing to not include the lies? I would appreciate it and think the Court would too.

Thank you.
